Autumn 2026

Paul is delighted to be exhibiting his work at MATTER, a joint exhibition with Jason Mulligan and Guy Stevens at The Crypt Gallery, under St Pancras church near King's Cross London 19 – 28 September.

He will also be taking a stand at LAPADA 27 October – 1 Nov.

His work is individually hand-carved in our West London studio. The collection presented here brings together heads, torsos, and figures, each carved from the most beautiful materials across the world, most notably marble and onyx.

Paul's work is rooted in the strength of stone, revealing its natural depth through balanced, timeless compositions. Every piece is unique, shaped not only by intention but also by the inherent qualities of the material itself, its veining, density, translucency, and fracture guiding the evolution of each form.

All sculptures are all suitable for indoor and outdoor installations, apart from those made in Alabaster, which is purely suitable for indoor due to the softness of the material.

Materials

The stones featured in this collection include:

Blue Marble — Bolivia
Green Rainforest Marble — India
Green Onyx — Afghanistan
Pink Marble — Portugal
Striped Onyx — Iran
Red Onyx — Pakistan
