Autumn 2026

Paul Vanstone | Autumn 2026

This autumn collection brings together a selection of Paul Vanstone's hand-carved sculptures, including heads, torsos and figures, created from some of the world's most beautiful marbles and onyx.

Each sculpture is individually carved in Paul's West London studio, where visitors are warmly invited to view the collection by appointment. Located just a short drive from Notting Hill, the studio offers an opportunity to see the sculptures in person, explore the extraordinary variety of natural stones and discover works beyond those featured in this catalogue.

Paul's work is rooted in the strength and beauty of stone, revealing its natural depth through balanced, timeless compositions. Every piece is unique, shaped not only by intention but also by the inherent qualities of the material itself. Its veining, density, translucency and natural characteristics all play a part in the evolution of each form.

Studio visits by appointment.
